PRIVATE WALKWAY BETWEEN CITY NATIONAL & SAVINGS BANK

THE THIRD REGIMENT, JUNIORS.

A HISTORY OF THE BOYS WHO WENT OUT IN THE 60's

The March Over the Historic Road of the Catawba, Governor Try- on and Lord Conwallis.

Written for the Telegram.

This regiment was composed of boys whose ages were seventeen. The organization of the regiment included the 8th, 7th, and 4th battalions of Juniors. These battalions were of the following counties, each county, with a few exceptions, furnishing a company: Catawba, Guilford, Burke, Caldwell, Iredell, Alamance, Randolph, Rockingham, New Hanover, Cumberland, Harnett, Cleveland. In several instances two counties were thrown together.

Under the organizations of battalions, these boys did picket duty below Wilmington from June, 1864, to December, 1864.

At this time, near Sugar Loaf, an old sand mound thrown up by the British, on the Cape Fear, four miles above Fort Fisher, the 3rd regiment was organized by electing John W. Hinsdale, of Fayetteville, colonel; Foster French, of Lumberton, lieutenant colonel; and Peter Ellington, of Rockingham, major

The regiment immediately went to Bellfield, Va., to drive back the Yankees who were then only thirty miles from Weldon. Having driven the Yankees beyond the Meherrin river, the regiment was ordered to Hamilton's crossing below Tarboro

It was immediately ordered on 23rd of December to Fort Fisher The regiment took a part in all services demanded of infantry during the heavy bombardment.

Sunday, Christmas day was a time when it literally rained shells in the region of Fort Fisher.

The Yankees having succeeded in effecting a landing above the fort, those still alive left

That night near Sugar Loaf, about one third of the regiment was captured and carried to Point Lookout.

Having become a part of Hoke's division, Hardee's corps, it moved to Goldsboro, and thence to Kinston.

On the night of February 6th, 1865, the command took position in front of Shofield and Wilcox, eight miles below Kinston. The regiment engaged in skirmishing on the 7th. On the 8th, about ten o'clock, the regiment formed line of battle on the east bank of South West creek. Having over-fallen gum trees for three or four hundred yards, it came upon a heavy line of Yankees in a skirt of woods. Here the reception was extremely warm for twenty minutes. When the Yankees left us, several casualties in the regiment were found. Fighting and skirmishing continued three or four days. Meantime Sherman's fourteenth corps had advanced to Averysboro, thirty-five miles from Raleigh. Though not especially tired of Schofield and Wilcox, this state of affairs caused us to retreat from Kinston. This led to the battle of Bentonville. Here Sherman had 27,000 men. On Sunday 19th of March General Joe E. Johnson, who was then in command of the western armory, pitched into the fourteenth corps under Slocum. Hoke's division of which the 3rd regiment was a part bore and repulsed the heavy charge made by the enemy in the forenoon. This was one of the hardest battles of the war In the afternoon the enemy was driven out of four lines of works. From this place, we fell back to Smithfield. Then the march through Raleigh and Chapel Hill, began. Above Chapel Hill, our line of March was on the old Salisbury and Hillsboro road. Two centuries before this time this was the trail over which the Catawba Indians visited the Tuscaroras in the east. Ninety-four years before this Gen. Tryon led his army to the battle of Alamace. Eighty-five years previous, Lord Cornwallis marched over this same ground. Now Johnson's army was sadly moving along the same road. Finally the division reached Bushhill, now Archdale. Here on the fifth day of May, 1865, those of us that remained bade each other a final farewell.

The Mass of Sufferag Humanity.

The famine has run but half its course. Wells that never failed in the memory of the people are without water. What will you do to help this mass of suffering humanity?

"O Christ, our Master and our Lord,
That hearts may open to the cry,
The famished cry from India's shores
Whose echoes reach thy throne on high,
May we our Lord an hungered see,
And gladly bring our loaves to thee."

PROGRAM FOR NEXT WEEK

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Next Week Will be Occupied in the Consideration of Our Insular Possessions.

Washington, March 31—The insular possessions will occupy the attention of the house next week. Hawaii will occupy three days and a vote will be taken Thursday. Friday will begiven to claims, Saturday to the eulogies of Mr. Bland. It is expected that the senate will send the Porto Rico tariff bill to the house Wednesday, where it will be referred to the committee on ways and means. It is not believed that any attempt will be made to pass it through the house next week. The senate will vote on the Porto Rico bill Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. It will pass by a substantial majority.

The ship subsidy bill was reported to the house this morning by Representative Grosvenor.

Secretary Long left this afternoon for Colorado Springs to visit his daughter who is there, but is steadily improving.

It may be stated on the best authority that Dewey is going to the Paris exposition and that the visit will be made soon after his visit to Chicago in May.

Capt. Folger today telegraphed Secretary Long that the test of the turrets of the Kearsarge was perfectly satisfactory.

DEATH OF MR. FALLS.

Going to Moravian Services and Will Stay to See Ball.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, March 31—Services at the Methodist Protestant church Sunday morning will be conducted by Rev. W. F. Kennell, President M. P. Conference. At the Friends church tomorrow morning and night Rev. Thos. C. Hodgin, the Quaker evangelist, will conduct services.

Quite a good delegation from here will go to Winston this evening to attend the Moravian exercises early Sunday morning. Some of the crowd will remain over to see the ball game between the universities of North Carolina and Tennessee, Monday.

The spring opening of Miss Venetia Smith, the milliner, was well attended and all the ladies say that she has a line of lovely Easter bonnets. What does the "hubby" say—you can guess—he pays the bills.

Mr. Falls who had rooms with Mr. Cecil, on College street, died yesterday, and was carried to Cleveland county for burial Dr. Julian came up from Thomasville yesterday to consult with Dr. Reitzel, the attending physician.

Intelligence was received here yesterday that Wm. Tragon an aged citizen of Glenola was found dead in the woods, near his home. Foul play is not suspicioned.

Let the Sisters Depart in Peace.

Statesville Landmark.

Our readers will recall that some months ago there was an exodus of negro cooks from Greensboro and vicinity to Northern cities, and there was much lamentation in Greensboro on account of the departure of the cooks. It will be noted in our colums today that there is a similar exodus of negro cooks and house servants from Raleigh and vicinity and the Observer reports that there is a similar exodus from Charlotte. We observe that there is some disposition to complain about the departure of the cooks, as if this was not a free country. They have a right to go if they choose and we insist that the colored sisters should be allowed to depart in peace. To the question, What shall we do? We answer: Let the white women learn to cook; that is the remedy.

BRAVE MEN FALL

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

TEST THEM As you may and you will find they are right. See Drs. Moore for glasses that will give satisfaction.

Wigwag—"I see that Husky, the actor, is giving testimonials for homœopathic medicine." Dr. Oldschool—"A sugar cured ham, eh?"

THE KILLED YESTERDAY.

London, March 30—The war office this morning posted a despatch from Roberts dated last night which reports that the enemy is leaving Brandfort and proceeding in northerly directions. Casualties yesterday were more numerous than at first reported The killed were 12, wounded 167, missing three.

PAPER CURRENCY AT MAFEKING

London, March 31—Gen. Roberts cables that news came from Mafeking on March 10th and is to the effect that the health and spirits of the garrison are good They have made a search light, their ammunition works have also been successful. They have introduced paper currency, to which now they are adding pound notes Food is lasting well.

THE REASON FOR THE TARIFF.

Speaker Says to Prevent Free Trade With Savages.

St Paul, March 31—Speaker Henderson has followed his letter to his Iowa constituent with a communication from a friend in Minnesota. He makes plainly the assertion that the main thing the friends of the tariff are fighting for is to establish the power of congress to rule our socalled colonies outside the constitution and says: "The fighting against the Porto Rican bill comes from great interests that are not disturbed so much about trade with Porto Rico but who want free trade with ten million savages in the Philippines"

Cant Divorce and Show Too.

Columbus, O., March 31—Peter Sells, the showman, who recently brought suit for divorce from his wife for making sensational allegations, announces his retirement from the show business. Sells says he is not able to attend to the circus business and a divorce case at the same time.

KRUGER'S POWERFUL ORATION AT JOUBERT'S FUNERAL.

Declares That The Struggle is Upheld by God and Will Continue—Ten Thousand People Present.

Pretoria, March 30—General Joubert's funeral was the most imposing national pageant ever witnessed at the capitol of the republic. It is estimated that ten thousand people lined the streets. The services in the church were very affecting, and many were moved to tears. Kruger made a powerful address at the railway station, eulogizing the dead hero, and emphasizing the determination of the burghers to continue the struggle for the independence of the republic which God always upheld. It is announced that Botha will succeed Joubert as commander-in-chief.

SETTLEMENT HOPED FOR.

Agreement Reached Yesterday Which Brightens the Situation.

Chicago, March 31—The situation is greatly brightened by the settlement of the strike in machine shops of Chicago, reached yesterday at a conference between officers and unions and representatives of employers. The settlement will be of national scope. Under its terms the general strike expected would involve a hundred and fifty thousand mechanists of the country about May 1st will be avoided. The work will be resumed here in Cleveland and Patterson Monday. The men agree to return to work pending arbitration.

AN ACCIDENTAL WALHALLA

We find this anxious inquiry in the New York Sun:

"To the Editor of The Sun—Sir: Will you undertake to say (1) which, if any, of our current American novelists will be read fifty years hence (2) as Scott is still read? (3) Have we one among us who is really a great novelist? (4) Is there an American novel now before the public, with the possible exception of 'Ben Hur,' that will have any readers worth mentioning fifty years hence? Azrael.

"Boston, Mass., March 22."

In the first place, it is impossible to believe that this inquiry comes from Boston, as it purports. It is not possible that any one living in Boston should be so ignorant as to be compelled to ask a question, and even if it is possible that any one lives in Boston and doesn't know everything, it is more impossible that he would admit his ignorance by asking a question So somebody must be imposing on the city of egotism by postmarking his question from there.

As to the first question, the Sun replies that pretty nearly all the novels now current will be read by somebody fifty years from now. "This is due," says the Sun, merely to the "physical persistence of paper and ink, and to the circumstance that few people actually destroy a novel because they find it silly or dull. The book goes onto the shelves, passes into the possession of the children and the grandchildren of the original purchaser, and thus stands a chance of getting itself read by one or more of the juvenile rummagers of the third generation. How many of our friends of mature literary experience do not preserve a vivid recollection of certain inherited novels which everybody else seems either to have forgotten or never to have heard of."

Better an accidental Walhalla than none at all, and this positive assurance of immortality should be consoling to our present day authors

But not one, says the Sun, will be read fifty years hence as Sir Walter Scott is now read, not one! And who believes that one will?

The fourth question the Sun answers like this: "We have not read them all yet. Our candid opinion, as at present informed, is that the most friendly and favorably disposed surveyor of the contemporary American novelists will fail to discern among them an original and creative genius of an order entitling him to rank with the great masters of fiction in the world's literature; always making a possible exception, however, of the distinguished author of ————. This blank every amateur is at liberty to fill according to his individual prediction, just as Azrael has filled filled it with "Ben Hur," a spectacular melodrama of very adroit composition."

The American novelist is too much concerned about types to ever reach other permanence than the merest accidental Walhalla. Nothing but a composite view of humanity will last. A dialect sketch of the Autocrat of Hog Wallow may be interesting, but it is not permanent. This gentleman is too insignificant in the world's hurly bury to last and be studied by people fifty years hence. There will be other local autocrats to be studied by that time. Uncle Remus will come as near living as any American book, because it embodies the imagination of a race in the dawning of its intellectual life.

Our buzzing contemporary, the Danville Bee, seems to be having trouble in impressing its folks that it has come to stay.

Et tu, Brute? The Statesville Landmark has been hit by the epidemic and is now running a double column heading on the front page.

A dispatch in yesterday's Telegram told of a fight between the French and Arabs, in which 600 of the latter were killed, 100 wounded and 450 taken prisoners. If we ever knew it, we certainly had forgotten that the parleyvouers were doing anything except in the line of talking, and here they are waging a regular war with Morocco.

Perhaps the impudent negro White, who represents the Second district of North Carolina in congress, will not hereafter be so easily insulted, since the insult to him and his companion who were refused seats at a white restaurant, was yesterday appraised by a Pittsburg jury at six and a quarter cents. This negro persistently attempts to force himself in public into the presence of white people, and when he is ordered to his place he leaves in a rage. Of all the disgraces and insults that have been heaped upon North Carolina, to be represented at Washington by this negro is the worst.

TALES OF THE TOWN.

On Wednesday the Telegram had a short article referring to the fact that Prof J. M. Bandy of this city was a drummer boy in the Civil War at the age of 14 years. He used the same drum upon which was beaten the funeral dirge of his uncle when his body was put over board in the Gulf of Mexico. The uncle was a soldier on his way to the Mexican war and died on the gulf. The drum was then owned by a Swede who brought it back to North Carolina, and when he died, left it with the family with whom he had lived This was after Prof. Bandy used the drum, and it is in the same family yet.

"La Grippe," said a Greensboro physician, "is exactly what its French name says—a sudden seizure." "Isn't it developed from a bad cold," he was asked.

"Not at all, not at all. It may attack simultaneously with a bad cold, but is not dependent upon it. That is quite a prevalent, but mistaken idea. One may have it without having a cold. Grip is propagated by means of a germ which travels in the atmosphere. This germ attacks the mucous membrane wherever it strikes. A man may be in perfect health at his office or work during the day, be attacked with the "sudden seizure," and go home sick, without apparent cause. A severe attack may be cured in one day, that is, broken in that time, while to recover from the effects of it a week would be required."

* * * * * *

When Ben Franklin wrote his first piece for publication, with much trepidation he pushed it under the door of his brother's printing office, and next morning watched breathlessly to see if it would go to the covernous depths of the waste basket When Henry George, the great political philosophy, was a printer at the case in San Francisco, he wrote his first article, on the subject of Russia and the United States, got it published anonymously, and soon found that he had won a place on the staff of the paper. There is an embryonic Horace Greely, or Bennett, or a Dana or a Waterson in Greensboro. However, he is not as modest in his first efforts as some of the wheel horses we have referred to were. In fact he is not modest at all. Pushing the office door open a few days ago he protruded therein a round head with hat so pulled down as to make his ears appear like flaps He was freckled faced, and when his grin showed his teeth, they appeared to be on unfriendly terms with each other and each keeping its distance from the other. He was about four feet high and one of those tough urchins whose looks indicate no especial age. He was not dressed in an evening suit Walking into the editor's office, without ceremony he acquired if any one was needed "ter write fer the paper" He was given paper and pencil and asked to show what he could do, and after some grunting and many erasures he produced some items like this: "Miss Jane Hogang is in the city." "Pete Jordin has lost his Billy goat." Mr. Smith has reumatism today." 'Jim Logang is in the city, Greensboro, N C." He was told to come back. He has one requisite—face.

"All the talk," said a citizen, "is about the magnificent price for which the town bonds sold. I hear it all about. We are proud of the figures they brought."

"When I'm traveling" remarked an intense Greensboro man, "I get fighting mad sometimes when I meet a Greensboro man away from home and hear him talking Greensboro down. There is no place like Greensboro, and I believe in talking it all the time, and believing in it, too. We have a coming town and every one should be proud of it. I despise to hear a man who gets his living out of a town talking that place down He ought to hush or move."

JOYNER FOR SUPERINTENDENT.

Suggested as the Most Suitable Man That Could be Found.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

I find there has been much writtenin our various state papers as to the advisability of the democratic convention nominating for superintendent of public instruction the present incumbent, Prof. Mebane.

There has been good argument on both sides, but I think all must admit that to nominate Prof. Mebane would be a public acknowledgement that among the democrats of the state there is none of them as competent as the present incumbent. It has occured to me that we have a man in Greensboro not only equal to any man that has ever held the position, but superior in every respect. I refer to Prof J. Y. Joyner of the State Normal and Industrial College. Now how many of you had thought of him, and why haven't you, and doesn't he strike you as being just the man for the place?

He is progressive, but conservative, energetic, thoroughly going, and thoroughly identified with the educational interests of the state. He is an eastern man but has been living in middle, N. C., for several years and is well known all over the state where he has travelled in the interests of schools and education He is a true democrat, but not a partisan He is well informed as to the needs of our schools of all kinds, and should he become our state superintendent of public instruction, he would know exactly what to do, how do it, and would make the most progressive superintendent we ever had.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Van Lindley.

MAIDS AND MATRONS.

Written for the Saturday Telegram.

On Tuesday afternoon the social card club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. George Mebane at her home on West Washington street. Duplicate whist was played. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated with carnations. This was one of the most enjoyable club meetings of the season.

Writing on "The Ease With Which we Marry," in the April Ladies' Home Journal. Edward Bok favors the reestablishment of the custom of publishing the bans—making such publication obligatory. "This precaution which our forebears had of giving thirty days' public notice of an intention of marriage, proclaimed from the pulpit and posted at the public hall," he believes, "was born of wisdom and rested on a sound foundation. The pity is that we ever got away from it I do not say that a return to this old custom of the proclamation of marriage would be the panacea for all marited evils. But it absolutely would do away with all the runaway marriages, sentimental elopements and the life compacts born of a single moonlight night, from which results so much unhappiness to our girls, and which have brought, and will continue to bring so much humiliation and disgrace upon parents and families. It is a significant fact that in those European countries where the intention of marriage must be publicly proclaimed a fortnight or a month previous to the actual ceremony, and where the additional precaution of a civil marriage is added to the religious ceremony, divorce is hardly known."

IMPROVING THE HALL.

Guilford Boys Will Have Better Place for Debate—Visitors.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Guilford College, March 30 -Tomorrow evening Dr. Pratt, state mineralogist will deliver his lecture, as before announced, to the faculty and students and friends of the college. The people of Greensboro and vicinity are cordially invited to be present.

The athletic association is very fortunate in having Mr. Lucien Smith to coach the players.

Mrs. Dicks, of Randleman, was a welcome visitor at the college for a few days this week. She came to see her little son Robert. We were also glad to see Miss Lucy Glenn yesterday. She drove out in the afternoon to see her brother Robert who has been unwell for the past few days.

The Websterians are preparing to enlarge their society hall. They begin work tomorrow to tear away the old petition; next week the plasterers and paper hangers will be out to finish the work. The society, by this change, will have a magnificent hall in which to carry on their debates.

Mrs. Field who, with her daughter, has been living in the neighborhood for the past few years, died yesterday afternoon. She had been in very poor health for some time.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. drogist.

Ten Years at Hard Labor.

John Lee, fourteen years of age, was yesterday, at Raleigh, sentenced to ten years at hard labor in the penitentiary for poisoning his sister, the wife of George Hobby, last October. Counsel W. B. Snow, for the defense, and Solicitor Pou agreed on a verdict of murder in the second degree on account of the age of the boy.

Body building, as they understood it in Greece and Rome, seems a lost art. Young men flat chested, flabby muscled, slouch along the streets, with scarcely one physical attribute of manhood. And yet these young men would like to be well muscled, supple, erect and hardy. But they don't know how to go about it. They try dumb bells, rowing and boxing, but only in a half hearted way. These sports should be play to them but are really work. The main factor in this condition is an ill nourished body. The stomach is not working properly. The digestive and nutritive organs are not in active health. The result is that the nutrition for the body is not distributed in proper proportions to make blood, bone and muscle.

Weak young men who take a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will find a marked change in their physical strength and energy. The body will be built up so that gymnastics will not tax and tire them, but be the natural exercise enjoyed by muscles which are nourished into firm health.

In a letter received from A. D. Weller, Esq., of Pensacola, Escambia Co., Fla. (Box 544), he states: "I have, since receiving your diagnosis of my case as stomach trouble and liver complaint, taken eight bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and must say that I am transformed from a walking shadow (as my friends called me) to perfect health. I value your remedies very highly and take pleasure in recommending them to any and all who suffer as I did. Four months ago I did not think to be in shape to assist our 'Uncle Samuel' in case of hostilities, but thanks to you, I am now ready for the 'Dons.'"

As the brethren have about secured the necessary amount of cash to pay off the indebtedness on the M. E. church, south, it will be dedicated at the close of the service tomorrow at eleven o'clock. Rev. G. T. Rowe will preach the sermon, and conduct the entire dedicatory service At night Dr. Wood, the Presiding Elder will preach, at the close of the service the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be celebrated.

The above will begin a series of revival services to continue through next week. All cordially invited to attend and take a part in these meetings.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is by an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wisconsin, by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvelous powers of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price fifty cents at C. E Holton's drug store.

SCROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

—CURED BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recoilections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in neary every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abcesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not lok to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

RHEUMATISM

Distorts Muscles, Shatters Nerves, Stiffens Joints.

Rheumatism is caused by poison which gains access to the blood through failure of the proper action of the kidneys to keep the system clear of all morbid, effete matter. This poison is carried through the general circulation is deposited in the joints, muscles and nerves, causing the most intense pain.

Rheumatism may attack with such suddenness and severity as to make within a few days a healthy, active person helpless and bed-ridden, with distorted limbs and shattered nerves; or it may be slow in developing, with slight wandering pains, just severe enough to make one feel uncomfortable; the tendency in such cases is to grow worse, and finally become chronic.

Like other blood diseases, Rheumatism is often inherited, and exposure to damp or cold, want of proper food, insufficient clothing, or anything calculated to impair the health, will frequently cause it to develop in early life, but more often not until middle age or later. In whatever form, whether acute or chronic, acquired or inherited, and no liniment or other external treatment can reach the trouble. Neither do the preparations of potash and mercury, and the various mineral salts, which the doctors always prescribe, cure Rheumatism, but ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

Rheumatism is Strictly a Blood Disease,

A remedy which builds up the general health and at the same time rids the system of the poison is the only safe and certain cure for Rheumatism. S. S. S., made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful properties, attacks the disease in the right way, and in the right place—the blood—and quickly neutralizes the acid in the blood, forces out all poisonous deposits, stimulates and reinforces the overworked, worn-out organs, and clears the system of all malignant accumulations. S. S. S. cures permanently and thoroughly, and keeps the blood in a healthy state.

[illegible] North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind., for eighteen months was so terribly afflicted [illegible] he could feed or dress himself. Doctors said his case was hopeless. He had [illegible] that the deposits had given him, without the slightest relief. A few bottles of [illegible] entirely cured him, and he has never had a rheumatic pain since. This was five years ago.

We will be glad to send our special book on Rheumatism, which should be in the hands [illegible] suffering from this torturing disease. ROBBED THE GRAVE

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Ethics of Advertising.

There has been some interesting discussion of the Sheldon idea, as exemplified by the Topeka Capital, under the conduct of Mr. Sheldon. From the press despatch reports of the first issue, which appeared several days before the Kansas newspaper reached its subscribers in this part of the country, it looked like the preacher-editor had missed a magnificent opportunity, but a careful reading of the paper itself reminded us that there are two sides to all questions, and that if Mr Sheldon had rounded up his idea, by devoting more attention to the social, physical and intellectual side of mankind, as we believe the well rounded God-man would have done, it would not have been so difficult for the world to accept the Sheldon theory in its application to journalism. The Sheldon idea is not a comfortable test for the every day work of any of us, we are afraid, because we fall so far short of measuring up to it, and this may explain why the newspapers of the country experienced such acute pain and discomfort in their contemplation of the Topeka Capital. The mind seems naturally to repel such a revolution in human thought and conduct, as that involved in the Sheldon idea, but at the same time cannot escape the conviction that it is about right after all. Religion ought to be a very real thing and the Sheldon principle is the reality of religion.

The Topeka Capital has surely set a most worthy example to the journalism of the country in its attitude towards advertising. It is something new to most newspapers, the idea of regarding the matter of advertising ethically and as a subject for the exercise of a discriminating conscience. The question arises, is not a newspaper just as much responsible for the advertisments admitted to its columns as for its reading matter? It is true that advertising space is sold for a price but that does not carry with it the liberty to prostitute it to illegitimate uses. No self-respecting newspaper would admit the advertisement of an opium den and yet that same paper will accept, without a thought of wrong, the flaming ad of a liquor saloon, with its tacit invitation to come and drink destruction. A newspaper that would turn aghast if applied to to advertise a brothel, will accept without question the advertisement of an immoral theatrical, playing second fiddle forsooth, to the immorality that is flaunted from the blazing bill boards. If we look the question squarely in the face, is there any real difference between advertising the opium den and the liquor saloon?—is there any real difference be ween advertising the brothel and the low theatrical? There is no difference except in degree.

The newspaper is the great educator of public morals, and its influence is second to no other, and if any evil influence invades the community, be it in the shape of a whiskey palace or a cheap show, have we not a right to expect from the family newspaper, that household god and oracle, to withhold its endorsement by ignoring and refusing to advertise it? When we see in our family newspaper the advertisement of a theatrical, that ought to be in itself an assurance that we are safe in taking our wives and daughters to witness it. Our intention was merely to give expression to a few thoughts on the subject of "the ethics of advertising," and not a lecture to the newspaper fraternity.

Degenerate Tendencies in Trade.

Not long since a Greensboro merchant sold to a tradesman from another city a stock of goods, and all the details of the transaction were set forth in an instrument of writing except one minor point involving only a few dollars, this being a matter of verbal agreement. After the terms of the written contract had all been complied with, the merchant mentioned the three dollars which had been agreed upon to cover the item omitted from the written instrument. His shifty friend, without changing countenance, asked in reply if there were any "writins" to that effect. The merchant answered no, and reminded him that it was a verbal arrangement made just a few days before. The man did not question the fact of the agreement When he found that there were no "writins," there was to his mind no question of obligation about it, and he volunteered the explanation 'I don't pay nothin' except what I'm obliged to." He was unconsciously announcing his principle of business, his moral philosophy, his standard of business integrity.

Such amazing candor, such abandoned sang froid, has its comical aspects, it is true, but it is at the same time a fruitful subject for the moralist. This man's standard of honest dealing was simply this, that in business there is no obligation save that imposed by law. Dangerous doctrine that, and it is spreading.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help: but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

The person who is too often put to the test naturally becomes testy.

Rev. R. W. Sitser, W. Caton, N.Y., writes: "I had dyspepsia over twenty years, and tried doctors and medicines without benefit. I was persuaded to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it helped me from the start. I believe it to be a panacea for all forms of indigestion." It digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 25.

I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

THAT THROBBING HEADACHE

The woman who is lovely in face form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E Holton's drug store.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remdy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. LAST OF MARCH, 1900.

The Day Will Never Come Again, But These Folks Will.

Rev. J. R. Scroggs, of High Point, was here yesterday.

Mr. Love, of New York, has been visiting Mr. J. Van Lindley at Pomona.

Mr. A. W. McAlister went to Asheboro today, being called by the illness of his father.

Solicitor A. L. Brooks went to Durham today and will return this evening.

Mr Lee G. Wharton is on the sick list today. His friends hope his illness will be of short duration.

Mr J. A. Davidson, president of the Brooks-Davidson Lumber Co., returned today from a week's trip to Florida.

Rev. Dr. H. M. DuBose, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of the Epworth Era, was in the city today and went north on the fast mail.

Mr. R. G. Glenn went to Guilford college today to see his son, Bob, who is sick with grip Mr. Glenn was accompanied by his daughter.

Mr. John W. Merritt is still confined to his home on Pearson street by illness. He is improving, we are glad to know, and we hope to see him out very soon.

Rev. L. Johnson went to South Boston, Va., today, where he will preach tomorrow for Rev. J. W. Wildman, who is conducting services in the Baptist church here.

Mr. H. J. Blauvelt, of Winston, who, as an expert architect, is preparing plans for an elegant residence for Mr. B. N. Duke, in Durham, was in Greensboro this morning.

Register of Deeds A. G. Kirkman came down from his home at Friendship today where he has been sick for several weeks. His many friends are glad to see him and to know that he is nearly well.

Miss Eula F. Patrick, who has been stopping with the family of Mr J. R. Pitts, on West Lee street, and attending the Normal College, left at noon today for Rockingham, where she will join her father who resides there. Miss Patrick has many friends in Greensboro who regret very much for her to leave.

Mrs. J. L. Rich and children arrived at noon today from Asheville, to make this city their future home. Mr. Rich has been here several days, and will have charge of the plumbing business of J. R. Rich & Son, recently purchased from the Odell Hardware Company. The family have taken rooms at Mrs. Cooper's, corner Eugene and Sycamore streets.

Mr. L. L. Lain, of Middletown, N. Y., spent several days here and with Mr. J. Van Lindley at Pomona, and left today for Atlanta. He represents the Chester News, Minisink News, and Pine Bush News, all in New York state. He is greatly pleased with Greensboro, and says few people in the north know or have any idea there is such a prosperous town, of the size of Greensboro, anywhere in the south

WORKING HARD.

Mr. Lindley Has Sent Out More Than 400 Packages of Road Literature.

Mr. J. Van Lindley, the very efficient president of the Good Roads Club, has sent out over the county more than four hundred packages containing information on good roads and the proposed bond issue. Mr Lindley is certainly a faithful and hard working president and if the bond issue is carried—and it will be—it will be due largely to his untiring zeal. Mr. Lindley is one of the most untiring workers in any cause for the upbuilding of either the city or county.

New Manufacturing Concern.

Another new manufacturing concern will begin work in Greensboro in three or four weeks. They will engage in the manufacture of excelsior, and possibly other articles along the same line. They will probably locate on the south side of the railway near the other wood working shops. Some of the parties interested reside in this city and are well known here. The names will be given later.

Ball Game Today

The athletic grounds at Oak Ridge and Guilford are the scenes of contests in baseball this afternoon. The teams from Elon College and Whitsett Institute passed here this morning going out to play. Elon takes Guilford and Whitsett boys try their mettle against Oak Ridge. It is the first game of the season for the Elon boys, and one of them remarked that they would be satisfied if they could succeed in scoring against Guilford.

Protecting Valuables.

A rustic looking gentleman was walking the streets of Greensboro this morning carrrying in his hands a black, oil cloth valise about the size and shape of an ordinary gas meter. A large brawny hand clinched the handle, holes had been punched just below the iron jaws of the grip, from which grimly hung a large old fashioned padlock, while in the set face of the man could easily be read a determination to save that valise and its contents or die.

He had probably come to town to pay his taxes.

The Weather.

THE BEST SHOWING FOR YEARS

CONDITION OF THE FINANCES OF THE CITY OF GREENSBORO.

Welcome News to Our Citizens—The Next Board of Aldermen Will Find the City Almost Free From Debt.

So frequently has it been asserted that the city had a floating indebtedness of $40,000, that the board of aldermen held an adjourned meeting last night to hear reports from Treasurer Ellington and Clerk Michaux as to the finances of the city. These reports show that instead of a floating debt of $40,000 the city will have on May 1st, after the taxes are paid in, a floating debt of less than $4,000.

The treasurer's report shows a floating debt at present of $22,000 in round numbers, $12,000 of which has been due for years, a part of it running back as much as ten years ago Of the $10,000 of floating debt spent by the present board, $1,500 went to pay for the Catholic church property bought by the city.

Of the $22,000 floating debt, about $2,000 is not yet due.

The report of the tax collector shows that there yet remains uncollected more than $20,000 of taxes, so that the present administration will be able to pay the amount of the debt contracted during this year and have about $10,000 to apply to the old floating indebtedness. So it will be seen that the next board will start the year almost entirely free from debt; and with the enlarged income to the city revenues from the dispensary and the increasing valuation of taxable property in the city limits, the end of another year will doubtless find the city free from debt and in a position to make many needed improvements

This statement makes a most creditable showing for the present administration in the face of the unusual expenses of the smallpox; and will be welcome news to all of our citizens It is evident that the city's finances are in better shape than they have been for probably more than five years

Besides the floating indebtedness, the bonded debt of the city is as follows:

Improvement bonds	$110,000
Normal College bonds	30,000
South Greensboro School bonds	9,000
A & M College bonds	11,000
Summit avenue bonds (about)	11,000
Total	$161,000

And $35,000 bonds for city hall sold but not yet delivered.

OTHER BUSINESS.

At this meeting all the members were present except Aldermen Hunter, Merritt and Wharton. Mr. Hunter is out of town on business and Messrs. Merritt and Wharton are on the sick list.

Permission was granted Will H. Matthews & Co. to support an awning on small iron posts on the curb line in front of their clothing store, on South Elm street.

The building committee was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the city hall building.

The tax collector asked for authority to sell property for unpaid taxes after April 1st, which was granted.

Meeting at the Baptist Church.

Of all the excellent sermons preached by Mr. Wildman, last night was considered by those who heard it, the best. "Come unto Me, and I will give you rest," was the delightful text, and tenderly he pleaded with the unconverted to accept the gracious invitation Quite a number at the close of the sermon, asked the prayers of christian people. It isn't often that a congregation enjoys the plivilege of listening to such a sermon as that of last night. Service tonight at 8 o'clock Mr. Wildman will preach at both services tomorrow.

Mr. London Tonight.

Hon. H. A. London will speak in the court house tonight Let every one come out and hear him.

A. M. Scales,

TACKY PARTY.

At The Residence of Mrs. S. B. Gardner, Summit Avenue.

The home of Mrs. S. B. Gardner on Summit avenue last evening was the scene of a pleasing and entertaining social affair. The occasion was a "tacky party" given in honor of visiting young ladies. The guests appeared in masque, each one representing some tacky character. Dancing, cakewalks, and games of various kinds were indulged in. Delightful refreshments were served, the first course consisting of "tacky" refreshments.

The following young people were present: Miss Minnie Lyon and Mr. Frank Leak; Miss Hettie Lyon and Mr. Lacy Sellars; Miss Eleanor Brooks and Mr. Will Turner; Miss Sallie Embrey and Mr. Elmo Sellars; Miss Pearl Lea and Mr. Hugh Smith; Miss Mary Embrey and Mr. Clark Porter; Miss Keen, of Danville, and Mr. Richard Turner; Miss Browning, of Savannah, Ga., and Mr. George Brooks.

Stag—Mr. Lacy Rankin.

Praise for Dr. Harrison.

Upon representation made to the board of aldermen last night that the situation with regard to smallpox in this city did not now warrant continuing the services of Dr. Harrison, the mayor was instructed to settle with him. Expressions of the warmest appreciation of the very satisfactory and efficient services of Dr. Harrison were heard from nearly every member of the board. He has endeared himself to our people by the courteous manner and care with which he has handled the difficult work he has been engaged in.

THE LAST ROUND.

This is the Wind Up of The Week's Doings.

The entertainment last night by the A. & M. College, colored, complimentary to the class of 1900, was very creditable.

There will be a reception next Saturday evening at the State Normal college given complimentary to the Y. M. C. A. convention which will be in session at that time.

Dr. Smith will preach tomorrow night the sixth and last sermon of the series on the Creed of Christ. The special topic will be Christ versus the radical higher critics.

The monthly services of the Christian church will be held at the Friends church by Rev L. I Cox, of Elon college tomorrow at 3 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The old frame building next to the depot on Buchanan street has been torn down preparatory to erecting a handsome three story building for the railroad eating house. Mr. J. N. Longest has the contract.

The township precincts held their primaries this afternoon and elected delegates to the democratic county convention to be held next Saturday. Members of the township executive committees were also chosen.

The sale of the Fishblate-Katz clothing stock to Merritt. Brower & Co., was confirmed by the court last evening, and Monday and Tuesday they will be busy straightening out and arranging for opening on Wednesday.

A very pleasant evening was spent by a number of young people in a social gathering at the residence of Prof. J. M. Bandy last night. A number of games were played and the refreshments were delicious. At a late hour the company dispersed, all voting it on occasion long to be remembered.

Don't forget the speaking on the amendment at the courthouse tonight by Maj H. A. London. Go out and carry your neighbor with you. You will be amply repaid by hearing one of the best speeches you will have the pleasure of listening to this year.

Rev C. A. Thomas, the well known Baptist divine, recently pastor of a church in Fayetteville, but now traveling in the interest of the Baptist Female University, was in the city this morning and went to Sanford on the noon train.

THE BRAVE AND THE FAIR.

The Entertainment at the Normal Highly Enjoyable.

The entertainment at the Normal College last night was out of the ordinary run of such performances The name given it, "A Dream of Fair Women and Brave Men," was very appropriate. The characters represented were taken from ancient, mediaeval and modern history, and ranged from Kings to Indian braves and squaws Among the characters more prominent in literature were Anthony and Cleopatra, Helen of Troy, Amy Robsart and the Earl of Leicester, Naomi and Ruth, Hiawatha and Evangeline. The reading by Miss Eleanor Watson, which accompanied some of the scenes, was quite enjoyable. Miss Laura Brockman presided at the piano with her usual skill and added much to the entertainment.

Another feature of the entertainment was the piano solo by Miss Pearl Long which was much enjoyed and heartily encored. The last number on the program was Auld Lang Syne, rendered by all in the play is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
